La ilaha illa Allah, La ilaha illa Allah, La ilaha illa Allah, Muhammad Rasulullah Allah Allah A© the creator of the cA© u and the earth Nothing can compare with Him, He's the only The prophets, the best of humanity Sent to all pes and all the tribes Last, Muhammad, miserie'rdia to the worlds. It really works wonders. The Scriptures, all by God sent, Torah, Psalms and Gospel, then the source of perfect guidance, the Glorious Alcor. Some Ulema, particularly of the Indo-Pak region, consider it totally inadmissible. In Maliki madhab, an opinion allows all instruments of the "beat" or "shake" type, including the Kub'a drum. This beautiful islamic song sung by the Islamic singer of Bangladesh Sadman Sakib. Muslim letters to guide us on the chechen. Formed of light and beauty, the angels of the Lord To praise God, to help mankind, Jibril brings the word. The settling of accounts, the Final Day, when all see their works Redone in soul and body to stand before the Lord With patience enduring all pain With gratitude for all the blessings We are satisfied with the destiny, the Will of Al. Read your favorite Islamic music lyrics. 26 January 2011 I really like this Nasheed, I am looking without the Music, unless someone © m can positively say that the beats in the background are allowed. Imam al-Ghazali rahimahullah, for example, states that "To praise the Prophet (sallallahu ta'ala alayhe wa sallam) There is an ibada [ibadat, good deed made for Allahu ta'ala] and should not be done with an entertainment instrument like daf [duff / drum]." I translated this quote from Kimya-yi-Saadat ["I am in the chapter on "Sama" and Wajd," the second section." but a similar statement can be found in Ihya.
